MCCLELLAND OPERA HOUSE.

SANFORD JOHNSON, Manager.

Season of 1886-87.

We beg to congratulate our patrons both in the city and country on the brilliant out-look for amusement for this season. Opening the house on September 22d, with Smith's Bell Ringers and Andrew's Novelty Company for two days, to be followed by McIntyre's Health Ministers on the 28th. We promise a continuance of choice and amusing entertainments up to April.

The house will be managed as heretofore, everything in our power being done that will conduce to the pleasure and comfort of our patrons. Good order is guaranteed. A special police officer will be secured and be present at each entertainment. The streetcar line centering almost in front of the house renders it easy, and inexpensive, to get to the house, more especially when it is to occur from any cause a pausing which may well be improved upon. We would here suggest, as we are giving dates and booking companies, that we are unable to secure time for an earlier date than the one we now anticipate opening with, in which event the fact will be made known.
